VENTRILOQUIAL JOKE.—A man who plays practical jokes upon his wife deserves to be punished, and Slatterly, of Muncy's, was punished. His wife had a dread of cats, and and no man, or robber intent, are concealed there. A few nights ago, after Mr. and Mrs. Slatterly had retired, Slatterly, who has been learning ventriloquism, thought he would amuse himself and scare his wife by gently yowling and making the seund come from under the bed. Mrs. Slatterly instantly sat up and exclaimed:

"Josiah, I do believe the second come from under the believe the second come from the seco

REDEMPTION OF LAND SOLD FOR TAXES. -The following two extracts from the revenue law now in force relative to the redemption of land sold for taxes will be of interest to the public, now that the sales of delinquent lands are taking place throughout the State:
"The owner of any real estate so sold, his heirs or assignees, or any person having a right to charge such real estate for a debt, may redeem the same by paying to the purchaser, his heirs or assignees, within two years from the sale thereof, the amount for which the same was so sold, and such additional taxes thereon as may have been paid by the purchaser, his heirs or assignees, with interest on the said purchase money and taxes, at the rate of ten per centum per annum, from the time that the same may have been so paid.

"What is authorized to be paid by the preceding section may be paid within the said two years to the clerk of the county or corporation (whose officer may have sold such real estate) in any case in which the purchaser, his heirs or assignees may refuse to receive the same, or may not reside or cannot be found in the county or corporation.'

In cases where land is purchased by the Commonwealth it may be redeemed by paying into the treasury the amount for which such real estate was so purchased, with such additional sums as would have accrued for taxes thereon, if the same had not been purchased by the Commonwealth, and interest at the rate of ten per centum per annum on the former amount from the date of the purchase, and on the additional sums from the fifteenth of December in the year in which the same would have so accrued. When real estate so purchased is so redeemed, the auditor shall certify the fact to the proper assessors of the revenue. purchased may be redeemed within two years after such disability be removed. - Lynchburg

THE NEW FRENCH MINISTER. - Jean Francois Charles Bartholdy, appointed minister of France at Washington by President McMahon in place of Marquis de Noailles, is the son of an Alsatian Jew, a native of Hagenau, in Alsace, and about forty-five. He was to be graduated as Bachelor of Laws when the revolution of 1848 broke out, when he supported the Republicans. He was vice president of the Anne Marie Club, a socialist organization, and in the June riots of 1848 fought desperately on the barricades. He escaped summary execution by a ruse, saying that Monseigneur d'Affre, the Archbishop of Paris, had sent him to purse the wounded. He was indicted for high treason, and transported to Lambessa, in Africa, for three years. In 1851, after the coup d'etat of December, he was released by order of Louis Napoleon, at the request of his aged father. M. Bartholdy at once became an ardent Bonapartist, was employed in the Ministry of Justice, then in the Department of Foreign Affairs as translator, and in 1858 was second secretary of legation at Berlin, and in two years he went as diplomatic agent to Turin, then to Vienna, where he remained until 1864. In 1665 he was charged with a special mission to Bazaine in Mexico. Since then he has been first secretary of the legation in St. Petersburg. The new minister is one of the most astute diplomats of France, and at St. Petersburg was on intimate terms with the Csar and his family.
